Property Description

The must-have Costa Rican real estate market is shifting to the south of the country and doing so at a very quick pace (don't get left behind!). This Southern Pacific area is particularly attractive to clients who are looking for peace, serenity, and communing with nature, as well as safety, spectacular views and even the chance to own your own piece of the evergreen lush jungle – after all, you don't need anything else to be fully happy! This property offers all of the above benefits, plus proximity to: beautiful unspoiled beaches, tourist attractions like deep sea fishing, horseback riding and ziplining, and the towns of Ojochal and Uvita, which hold all the amenities you will ever need here – supermarkets, shops, restaurants and cafes, dentists, vets, and many many more. The property is located on the road between Ojochal and Cortez, in a gated and well laid-out community. The 9-acre lot has 80m of highway frontage and presents the perfect spot for a beautiful nature immersed home at the top of the property many types of businesses along the highway – accommodation, food and drink services, tourist activities, fitness or yoga studio – you are only limited by your imagination! The building site sits on top of a hill accessed by a well-maintained internal community road.
