Property Description

We are excited to present an unmissable opportunity to acquire 38.8 acres of superb farmland for your Costa Rican eco-dream. Build your own luxury coastal homestead and live off the land. This lot offers plenty of space for animals and crops in the rolling mountain landscape. Fruit trees are particularly popular in this friendly community. This farmland already has road access, water access, fences, and a shed in place, reducing the amount of initial work required for the farm. Other than that, the farm is a blank canvas for your vision. Neighboring properties have had great success with growing crops, gardens, and orchards due to the stable temperatures. You will be in great company in this local farming community where neighbors swap tips and trade produce at the fresh food markets. And when you want a well-deserved break from your farm, some of the regions most beautiful golden beaches are just 30 minutes away.
