Property Description

Perched above the rural village of Pacuarito you will find these uniquely designed modern mountain style villas. Pacuarito is a quiet area between San Isidro and dominical that offers the convenience of access to both areas as well as a cool and fresh elevation of 2,900 ft above sea level. The property itself measures 14,205 m² (3.5 acres) and offers areas of both forest and portions of pasture. Nestled in the forest canopy are two new 860 square foot studio villas with views through the trees and the mountains and valleys below. Each villa offers a large patio area for enjoying a Costa Rica coffee, a book, and bird watching. The extra high ceilings arrayed with laurel hardwood make sure an impressive setting as well. The bedroom space consists of a large hardwood king size bed and a walk-in closet space. The kitchen is also quite spacious with a beautiful black San Gabriel granite countertop and custom steel and laurel wood cabinetry design.
